

VOLUNTEER DEAF AND DISABLED TRAINERS

The Work

Inclusion London (IL) are the lead organisation for the London Deaf & Disabled People's Organisation (DDPO) Hate Crime Partnership, made up of 24 local DDPOs across London who deliver a range of Hate Crime Support via frontline services.

deafPLUS has been working with Inclusion London as part of the London DDPO's Hate Crime Partnership to coproduce training courses as a resource for local DDPO's.

The training courses have been designed to create a growing community of people who understand what Disability Hate Crime is and recognise the devastating impact it has on individuals and society.

The purpose of the course will help participants to develop their skills and knowledge in tackling Disability Hate Crime in all of its forms and help to create a more fair, equal and just society.

We will be offering non-DDPO frontline staff working in transport, housing, Special Educational Needs schools and Deaf Organisations high quality bespoke online webinars.

If you have:

- Lived experience as a Deaf and/or Disabled person
- Knowledge of Disability equality issues, including the social model of disability and the barriers that exclude Deaf and Disabled people from across different impairment groups
- Knowledge of hate crime against Deaf and Disabled people and intersectional issues

- Excellent learning skills and an ability to engage with new ways of working
- Excellent skills in problem solving and adaptability
- Good interpersonal skills and an ability to confidently manage demanding group dynamics and diverse audiences

We would like you to apply

In exchange

We are offering an opportunity of free training, provided online to be skilled up to deliver anti hate crime training sessions. You will also be expected to deliver a pilot, with the support of an experienced trainer in November. All reasonable expenses will be paid.

You will be supported by the Project Manager and specialist consultant.

How to apply

If you would like to be part of this exciting new venture, please submit by midday 19th September 2021:

1. Your CV (including 2 references)
2. Supporting statement detailing, in around 600 words
 - a. How you are the person we are looking for! (Please detail how you have the skills, knowledge and experience we have listed above)
 - b. How you would deal with challenges of delivering remotely
 - c. Why you want to volunteer to be a anti hate crime trainer
